Emily Pacheco found out about the Ben Hudnall Memorial Trust through NCAL Career Counselor Martha Edwards. At the time, she was working in the Float Pool, but she wanted to take her career path further. She had already completed her Associate's in Healthcare Administration, but she was ready to receive her bachelor's.

Working as a full-time, single-mother with two young children at home, Emily knew that she was the "breadwinner" in her household and could not afford to miss work while pursuing her academic dreams. After talking with her Career Counselor, she signed up for the Stipend Program which allowed her to attend class without having to worry about losing any money in the process.

"It was important for me to take time to focus on my studies without losing any income for my family," she says, "The program helped out a lot and afforded me time to get my BA."

Because of a few personal issues that occurred last year, her school work had to be postponed for a little while, but her Career Counselor made sure to help keep her on track along the way. Emily has now completed four classes and will receive her Bachelor's in Healthcare Administration next year. |

More determined than ever to continue her career development, she has participated in the Extraordinary Administrative Assistant Regional Training Program as well as taken Word and Excel classes through New Horizons' computer training to keep her administrative skills sharp.

"I made sure to take advantage of everything BHMT had to offer."

Congratulations, Emily!

3 Tips for Career Development

"The only way to do great work is to love what you do. If you haven't found it yet, keep looking. Don't settle."—Steve Jobs. It can be difficult to figure out what you love and how to align it with a viable business or job. Take the time to understand what motivates and provides you satisfaction and fulfillment.

Here are 3 ways to pinpoint your passions and to help you start turning them into career choices:

- Do What You Love
- Never Stop Learning
- Be the "Go-To" Person in Your Field

If you are not moving forward, you are moving backward. Take advantage of all the offerings from BHMT like CE Direct and CECenter to continually acquire new knowledge and skills to improve.

Remember, your career counselor is available to assist you by offering a range of assessments to uncover your interests and goals. Find your passion and purpose because if you love what you do, you'll always win.
